

Mediated Learning Principle	✓	Comment
Implicit help Is the mediator only having to give small hints, clues and prompts in order to improve performance?
Explicit help Is the mediator having to give detailed feedback/assistance including explicit discussion of strategies in order to improve performance?
Engaging Is the mediator trying to engage the child in a reciprocal interaction?
Making sense Is the mediator promoting meaningfulness in the task?
Bridging Is the mediator making links to previous or future experiences, e.g. what happens in the classroom?
Encouraging Is the mediator giving frequent, enthusiastic praise and encouragement in a way that provides valuable feedback to the child?
Self-regulation Is the mediator trying to ensure the child slows down, reflects and takes his/her time?
Sharing Is the mediator interacting in a way that communicates that he/she is on the child's side, that they are working together as a team?
Independence Is the mediator taking a step back at appropriate points to allow the child to take over when working on tasks?
Planning Is the mediator encouraging planning: showing what to do before beginning to solve the task and how to set achievable goals?
Monitoring Is the mediator ensuring that the child is checking his/her answers?
Explaining Is the mediator asking for explanations, guiding the child to justify their answers?
Verbalising Is the mediator encouraging the child to talk aloud when doing the tasks in order to highlight their thinking?
Scaffolding Is the mediator gradually building up skills, giving less and less help until the child takes over responsibility for learning?
Challenging Is the mediator ensuring that tasks are challenging, without overwhelming the child?
Change Is the mediator highlighting new skills that have been learned and showing the progress that has been made?
Positive outlook Is the mediator maintaining a positive outlook at all times despite difficulties?
